Curry Motorsports is more than racing, we're building tomorrow's motorsports teams. Our academy provides hands-on training pathways in car and engine building, pit crew operations, motorsports logistics, and race gear design. Through internships and technical education, we're creating a full pipeline for youth and adults to enter the motorsports workforce with real skills, real experience, and real opportunity.

MENTAL HEALTH & HEALTHY LIVING

At Curry Motorsports, we believe that peak performance starts with a healthy mind and body. Mental health awareness is a core part of our driver development program. Through wellness coaching, stress management strategies, and a culture of open communication, we prepare our drivers to succeed not just on the track, but in life. Healthy living isn't optional, it's foundational.

THE CURRY MOTORSPORTS ACADEMY

Our mission is to develop drivers to race in the premier sportscar racing series in North America, the IMSA WeatherTech Sportscar Championship. We strive to develop drivers from vast socioeconomic backgrounds to become the next generation of professionals on and off the track.

TIER 1 - KARTING

Curry Motorsports placement of drivers in endurance karting events (4-hour to 24-hour races) and local karting leagues emphasizes our commitment to drivers learning the fundamentals of racing and learning the skills of team building.

TIER 2 - Endurance Series Racing Series

Our partners here give drivers a chance to race full-size racing cars for the first time in a competitive environment and put their skills to the first crucial test, with emphasis on endurance to develop their potential to race in the IMSA WeatherTech Sportscar Championship.

TIER 3- Spec Miata

Sports Car Club of America's Spec Miata series places Curry Motorsports drivers on the national stage. Competing in championships here in the Spec Miata class puts drivers to the ultimate motorsports test before advancing to international series.

TIER 4 - 6
